

*We're all about students.
Your Dream is our mission.*

July 1, 2004

To whom it may concern:

Nancy Noonan presented a program at Aims Community College for faculty, administration and staff that was fun and invigorating. This program was a real "shot-in-the-arm" for all in attendance.

Nancy's unique background as an educator gives her insight into the minds of educators. Her program Lessons from the Masters was very dynamic! As a direct result of her perspective and ability to relate to her audience, many participants commented that Nancy was one of the best speakers that they have heard at our campus. Nancy's infectious style of presenting gives her participants the tools that they will need to be more creative and get more comfortable with change in a fun and enlightening environment.

As a result of Nancy's presentation many participants commented that they felt reinvigorated with their work and would be able to incorporate effective new ideas into both their work and personal lives. I look forward to bringing Nancy back to Aims in the near future since many participants asked for her to return.

Sincerely,
