Nancy Noonan was the keynote speaker at the Kansas City Professional Development Council's (KCPDC) Professional Development Conference; Re-igniting Your Spark on March 30, 2011 hosted by Baker University in Overland Park, KS. Her presentation The Art of Mastery! Inspiring Excellence in Work & Life was very well received by the audience of close to 100 employees from the eight member colleges and universities of the KCPDC.

Her presentation received high evaluation scores and comments including: 'Very well done-enjoyed art lesson as an extra', 'The opening session was engaging, so it set the tone for the rest of the conference', 'The opening session was very informative and inspiring' and 'Keynote set the tone and energized the topic and the group. Many evaluations rated Nancy Noonan as the best thing about the conference.

Nancy was prepared, accommodating and easy to work with, we would love to have her at another conference. We highly recommend her to energize and engage audiences, while throwing in a little education that she can't seem to resist!
